

RELIGION & STATE IDEOLOGY IN THE MIDDLE EAST AND ASIA

MONDAY, 11 NOVEMBER 2019

Conference Room

Institute of Czech Literature (CAS)

Na Florenci 3/1420, Prague

WORKSHOP PROGRAMME

Strategy AV21
Top research in the public interest

9:00-10:30

Monday, 11 November 2019

Opening Remarks

Ondřej Beránek (Oriental Institute, CAS, Director)

The Fight for the Nation: Young Turk and Hamidian Religious Discourse in the Formulation of Ottomanism as Proto-nationalism

Stefano Taglia (Oriental Institute, CAS)

Gender, Piety and Charity in the Late Ottoman Empire

Ebru Akcasu (Dept. of Middle Eastern Studies, Charles University)

The Shah's Attitude towards Islam. From White Revolution to Revolutionary Islam

Olmo Gölz (Albert-Ludwigs-Universität Freiburg)

11:00-12:35

Religion, State and Nationalism in the Early Israeli Polity

Jan Zouplna (Oriental Institute, CAS)

From Saving Buddhism from (Corrupt) Buddhists to Preserving Buddhism from Islam: The Relationship Between Religion and 'National' Identity in Precolonial & Postcolonial Myanmar

Michael Charney (SOAS, University of London)

A Hindu Nationalist Republic? India in the 21st Century

Sumantra Bose (LSE, University of London)

'Moral Governance' and the Making of the Bangsamoro Autonomous Region in Muslim Mindanao

Rosa Cordillera Castillo (Humboldt-Universität zu Berlin)

WORKSHOP PROGRAMME

14:00-15:45

Monday, 11 November 2019

Advocating Zakat: Legal Reform and Contest in 21st Century Indonesia

Kostas Retsikas (SOAS, University of London)

Citizen Martyrs: The Afghan Fatemiyoun Brigade in Iran

Kevin Schwartz (Oriental Institute, CAS)

Moderation in Ideology, Immoderation in Tactics: The Hybrid Transformation of the pro-Kurdish Parties in Turkey

Pelin Ayan-Musil (Anglo-American University, Prague)

Closing Remarks and General Discussion